

SLM Students Training In Italy

May-July 2019

Five Master Program in SLM students from Zagazig University have attended a training period of 3 months at Sassari university, Italy. During this period students gained valuable skills and experiences in different disciplines based on student specialization.

Our students attended also two intensive courses in English and Italian languages. They also practiced some laboratory analysis at different laboratories of the hosting university. The students also received a short course on data statistical analysis using R software.
